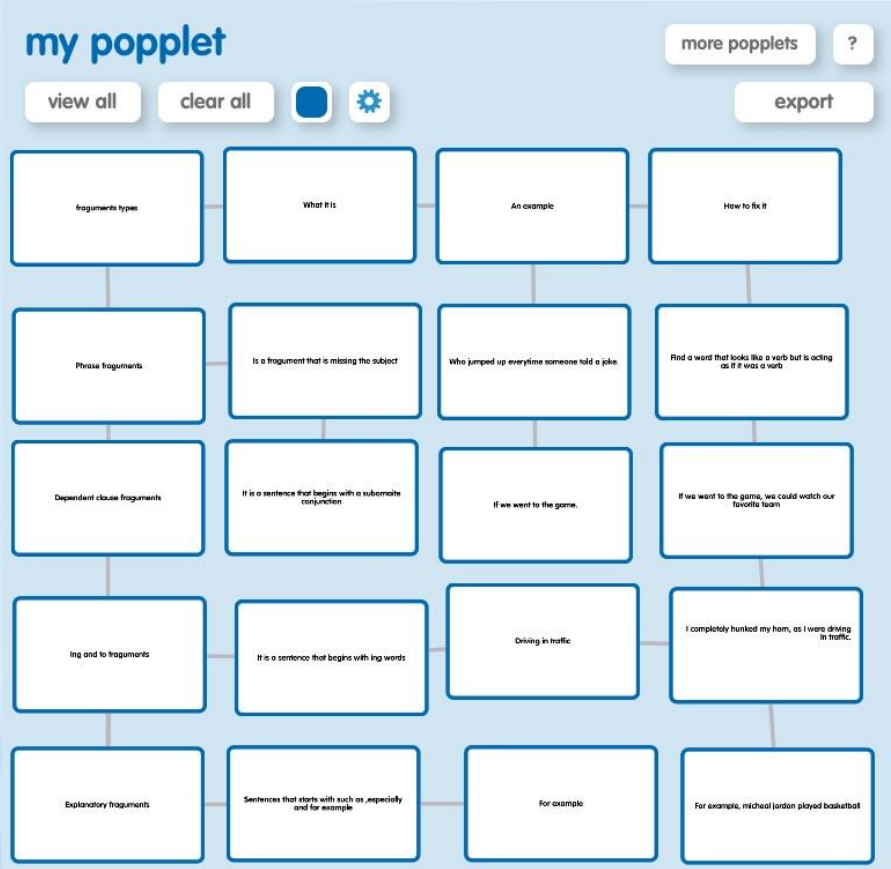
Example



Fragments Assignment

You should create a fragments help sheet that explains the following:

1. Each type of fragment from the lecture (see below)
2. How to fix each fragment
3. Examples of the fragment
4. Any other information that is relevant to the topic (i.e. list of subordinating conjunctions)

The purpose of this handout is to create a quick reference guide to help any LS student with proofreading for fragments. You are NOT allowed to copy information word-for-word from the lecture. You should come up with your own examples and explain the errors in your own words.

The help sheet should be ONE page and will be graded on the following:

- Accuracy of information
- Covering all the fragments
- Visual presentation
- Examples of fragments
- Grammar

Fragments to Cover
Phrase Fragments
Dependent Clause Fragments
-Ing and To Fragments
Explanatory Fragments

You may use any of the following to create the help sheet: MS word, Power Point, Haiku Deck (app), Easy Publisher (app), or Easy Designer (app). The final product should be submitted in the appropriate eLearn dropbox. Accepted formats are .doc, .rtf, .docx, .ppt, .jpg, and .png.

Please see the instructor if you would like to use a different program.

Example

Comma Splices and Run-ons Activity

1 Video per Group!

Using the app Educreations, create a video that models how to proofread for both comma splices and run-ons. The video should be no shorter than one minute. Here are your steps:

1. Create a sample paragraph to correct of at least five sentences. (These sentences should have comma splices and run-ons.) Take a screen shot of the paragraph when you are done.

2. Open the app Educreations. Log in with the following information:

Username: engl0801@gmail.com

Password: engl0803

3. Create your screens, pulling out your screen shots and adding any other information you may need.

4. Record your video. Actually walk me through proofreading and correcting your sample paragraph. Remember: you are teaching someone how to proofread for comma splices and run-ons.

5. Save your video. The video title should be your name. Make the video public.

Grading Criteria

-Accuracy of information- 20 points

-Examples- 20 points

-Content of the video- 10 points
